

LCC Project, Memphis, TN

This project consisted of re-roofing and replacing metal panels atop the 125 foot tall structure. As with any of our projects, safety was top priority, but this project was especially challenging and labor intensive. The structure is a very big building and the performance of the work took place over 125 feet off the ground.

